

BOOK REVIEWS BY KIDS

With all the stripes, she's easy to spot

"A Bad Case of Stripes"

By David Shannon

Los Angeles Times

<http://www.latimes.com>

March 7, 2004

Camilla Cream likes lima beans, but her friends at school do not. She is so worried about what people will think that she gets "A Bad Case of Stripes" and becomes all colorful. She goes to the doctor, but he can't help. She keeps changing colors, and the other children laugh at her. Read the book to find out how she gets rid of the stripes.

Raphael, Kimberly, Roxana, Jorge, Adonis, Arnold, Gerardo, Ana and Raphael M.

First and second grade, Para Los Niños

Family Resource Center, Los Angeles